The Challenge for Gyms and Fitness Clubs

Gyms face an increasingly competitive landscape where retaining members and delivering personalized experiences is critical to long-term success.

01

Member Retention and Engagement

Most members disengage within the first 90 days of joining — often due to lack of motivation, unclear goals, or absence of nutritional support.

Studies show that up to 50% of new gym members stop attending within six months (IHRSA, 2023).

02

Limited Personalization

Traditional fitness programs often stop at the workout. Without integrated nutrition and behavioral support, members struggle to sustain results.

03

Revenue Pressure

Membership-based business models face plateauing growth. Adding digital and personalized wellness offerings creates new revenue streams and stronger retention.

Gyms with integrated digital wellness tools report up to 20% higher member retention and 25% greater average revenue per member (McKinsey, 2023).
